

AIR NATIONAL GUARD FISCAL YEAR 2018 (FY18)
ANG SQUADRON COMMANDER'S COURSE (SCC) ANNOUNCEMENT

Professional development for our officer cadre is extremely important and our senior leadership is committed to providing quality educational opportunities to meet the developmental needs of our future leaders.

The FY 18 ANG Squadron Commander's Course (SCC) dates are: 16-20 April 2018, 18-22 June 2018, 13-17 August 2018 and 17-21 September 2018. SCC will be school-day funded so long as resources allow; otherwise, the course is unit funded and is held in Jackson Auditorium at Conaway Hall, 3500 Fetchet Ave, ANG Readiness Center, Joint Base Andrews.

This course is intended for personnel currently occupying a command billet on the Unit Manning Document. When the opportunity permits, consider sending personnel projected for command.

Overview: The Squadron Commander's Course is designed for Squadron / Flight Commanders or those who will soon assume this responsibility. The course provides an opportunity for you to share leadership experiences and issues which affect the Commander each day. SCC is conducted 'by the Field, for the Field' and supports the basic premise of "what I wish I had known before assuming command". You will explore proven leadership tenets, interact with seasoned commanders throughout the Air National Guard and receive the most current information affecting today's Airmen.

Course Length: Class begins Monday at 0730L. You should plan to arrive one day prior to the class start date. Graduation will take place approximately 1500L on Friday, allowing evening air or auto travel return to your home unit for most students.

Funding: This is a school-day funded class so long as resources allow; otherwise it is a unit funded course and students may attend in any type of TDY status authorized by unit orders.

Registration: Your Base Education and Training Manager or Force Support Squadron (FSS) Superintendent will perform student registration through TEAMS. Once the FSS requests a seat, NGB/HRT will issue a Training Line Number (TLN). You should receive an email from the SCC staff with reporting instructions approximately one month prior to class start date.

Contacting the SCC Staff: If you have questions about the course, please contact Maj Ashley Gray at DSN 828-8616 or ashley.r.gray4.mil@mail.mil
